GIANNOULAS & ASSOCIATES Law Firm provides legal services in the field of claim collection, with particular experience in all forced recovery procedures. Representing both creditors and debtors, our lawyers are able to handle all tools and methods that law provides, in order that our clients can move safely and efficiently into the complex area of forced claim collection.

Most of the lawyers of the firm have a scientific background and postgraduate qualifications in the areas of substantive and procedural private law, which guarantees the high level of legal approach of the cases. Mr. Fotis Giannoulas is a member of the Association of Greek Lawyers dealing with the Law of Civil Procedure and holds a Master's Degree in Civil Law acquired from the National and Kapodistrian University of Athens.

Our experience is even more pronounced in the field of bank claims, since our clients list includes for several years credit institutions, as well as bank debtors.

A specific mention must be made herein to the various cases of successful out-of-court settlement of bank debts, as our firm mediated for the settlement of debts of a significant amount owed to banking institutions.

And even if the out-of-court settlement of debts is not possible, the careful use of the tools provided by Law no. 3869/2010 and by Law no. 4469/2017 (out-of-court mechanism) leads to effective and sustainable solutions for a new start of individuals and enterprises.
