Our firm is constantly dealing with cases of bankruptcy proceedings. In particular, we have helped our clients in cases of bankruptcy, special liquidation, and special management as well as all of every new form of debt restructuring.

We are experienced in providing our legal services to Special Managers of companies under a special management status, assisting them in the overall process from the assumption of their duties until the full distribution of the property.

We have also assisted our clients in drafting reorganization agreements as well as in the defense against applications for reorganization that harm their rights and legitimate interests.

Furthermore, we are very experienced in the process of property distribution to creditors: both in terms of drafting the distribution board and in terms of the defense of creditors against errors and failures arising from the drafting.

These proceedings often look like a chess game. It is extremely interesting for us to deal with this "game", defending the goals and interests of our clients.
